

Interested in Becoming an Imago Therapist?

Imago Relationship Therapy, as developed by Harville Hendrix (Oprah's favourite couple's counsellor!), has helped thousands of couples restore the connection in their relationships. Here's your chance to learn how to help couples achieve these kinds of breakthroughs.

The Basic Clinical Training consists of 96 hours of education and will be offered in Vancouver beginning in January 2012, in three four-day blocks. The training will be taught by two extraordinary Imago faculty members: Rebecca Sears and Ben Cohen (more on the next page)

Who should take this training?

Psychologists, counsellors ,psychiatrists, therapists, social workers, graduate students and those in the process of becoming licensed.

The training is open to any mental health professional interested in learning the theory and skills developed by Dr. Harville Hendrix. The model has deepened and expanded over the years, and continues to be on the cutting edge of relationship therapies. You will get a solid training in the basics of Imago theory and practice, and learn the latest advances and techniques of this dynamic approach.

You will be able to present yourself as a Certified Imago Relationship Therapist, and get referrals from the Imago Institute. In addition, you will be entering a vibrant world-wide community of therapists dedicated to the advancement of this work, and have all the support and advanced training opportunities that this offers.

Level 1 is the 96 hour course. For those who wish to become certified an additional Level II is required which consists of six months of supervision.
